Overnight Accommodation for Parents and Relatives of In-patients at the Walton Centre

The Walton Centre for Neurology and Neurosurgery NHS Trust may be able to offer you overnight accommodation. However, due to a lack of availability this may not always be possible.

Can I get accommodation? Who do I see about accommodation?

Provision of rooms within the Relatives Accommodation is subject to availability. The allocation of these rooms is at the discretion of the Ward Managers and will be for a limited time period.

Criteria for accessing accommodation

- The patient is either “critically ill” (as described by the nurse in charge of the ward) or a child in hospital
- The accommodation is for the next-of-kin
- The accommodation is available.

Where is the Accommodation?

Mid-way on Ground Floor Main Corridor

We have four single rooms here at the Walton Centre, each having an extra pull out bed. The main use of these rooms is for the relatives/next of kin of patients who have been admitted in cases of emergency.

Bathroom facilities are provided but are not en-suite.

Meals are not included.

Visitors may use these rooms for a limited time within the duration of their relatives stay at the Walton Centre.

Aintree Lodge at Aintree Hospital

You may be able to access a room at the Aintree Lodge Hotel if you are the next-of-kin of a critically ill patient at The Walton Centre. This can only be organised for you by the Ward Manager. The accommodation is 3-4 minutes walk from The Walton Centre, and offers twin bedded rooms with en-suite facilities.
