

You must score all the items for the questions to progress to the next question. If you try to move on to the next question without rating all items, the row is highlighted red.

If you cannot provide an answer to the question and feel unable to score an item, you can choose the response 'unable to rate'.

As you move through the question and the list of items, you have the opportunity to provide feedback along the way. The text box opens when you click "Provide feedback."
